President's Message

On September 21, the DCBA conducted one of its long-standing traditions in Courtroom 1, the Memorial Service honoring those member who recently passed. As President Judge Rich Lewis noted, this is a tradition that has existed for over 100 years. It is also a tradition that all members should attend.

The three members we recently honored all reached their late 80's-early 90's. While I did not know these members personally, I gained insight through their memorial resolutions. Stories about, in one case, escaping Nazi Germany; attending law school and starting a business in a different era; being the first attorney recruited by McNees from another state; and of course stories of and by the families (including the families in the profession) left behind.

I, as well as Judge Lewis, request that you join us at the next and all future DCBA Memorial Services, regardless of your association with the honored member. It is a fitting tribute to those who paved the way for us, a way to honor our profession and a way to show respect and appreciation to the families of the honored member. After all, this is also a tradition where, one day, we will all be the honored member.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

At a special Memorial Service held on Wednesday, September 21, 2016 at the Dauphin County Courthouse, the following resolutions of our former colleagues were unanimously adopted:

PRO BONO MONTH

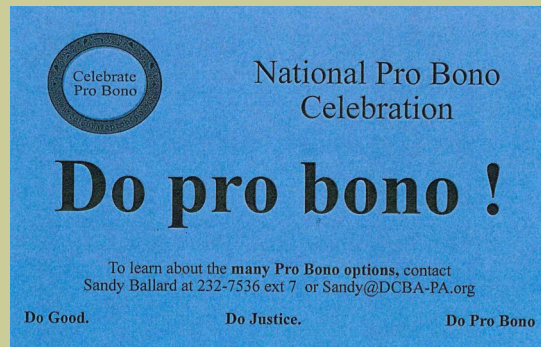

Pro Bono Week is a nation-wide effort to recognize the difference pro bono lawyers make in their communities, recruit more pro bono lawyers and acknowledge the partnerships that form the basis for many of the private bar's successful pro bono efforts.

The ABA Pro Bono Week celebration highlights the good work of attorneys to address those needs in their individual communities. Goals for the celebration include:

- Recruiting more pro bono participants;
- Increasing legal services to poor and vulnerable people;
- Mobilizing community support for pro bono and legal services;
- Fostering collaborative relationships – which are key in Dauphin County with MidPenn Legal Services, other legal service programs, the Dauphin County Bar Association, the members of the bench, the local law schools, the Paralegal Association, government programs and our elected officials, and
- Recognizing your pro bono efforts!

However, one week is just not enough time for Dauphin County – we need a whole MONTH to celebrate pro bono! Therefore, October is Pro Bono Month in Dauphin County.

Dauphin County Bar Association members should recognize this Table Tent:

The Pro Bono Table Tent Reminders were featured at the Dauphin County Bar Association's Annual Luncheon to welcome new members. At the Luncheon, President Judge Richard Lewis reminded the membership that participating in pro bono service is part of what it means to be a Dauphin County lawyer.

The Table Tents will also be a fixture at every table for Bar Association events in October. All Bar Association members and visitors will be reminded to participate in pro bono. Most importantly, during October you will see the Table Tents at the courthouse.

What can you do to support Pro Bono Month? Do good... do justice... do pro bono!

To learn about the many Pro Bono options, contact Sandy Ballard at 232-7536 ext. 7 or Sandy@DCBA-PA.org

ANOTHER PRO BONO OPTION: PA HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION MEDIATION

Attorneys who are also trained as mediators can help mediate employment discrimination complaints for the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission (PHRC) as part of their pro bono service. PHRC provides training on the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

PHRC offers mediation services to help resolve employment and public accommodation disputes quickly so that lengthy investigation hearings and/or court can be avoided. It is a voluntary, informal process in which a trained, neutral mediator helps people explore and resolve their differences together. The goal is to produce a settlement agreement that is acceptable to both parties.

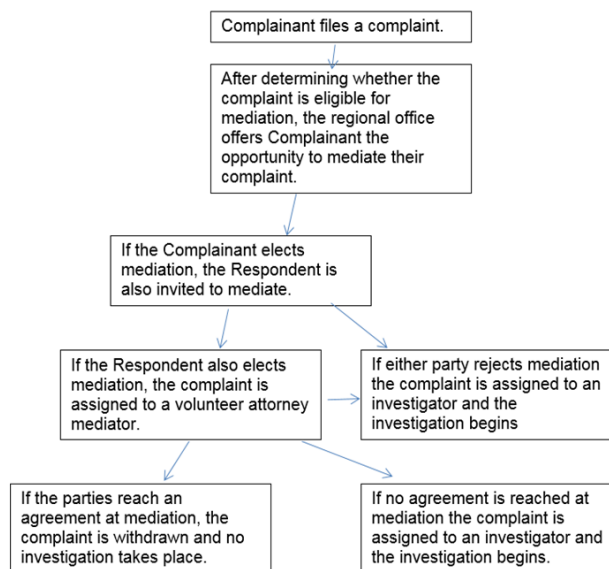

Mediation offers a number of benefits including:

- Mediation is confidential under Pennsylvania law. The mediator does not keep any notes of the discussions that take place during the mediation session.
- PHRC offers mediation services to the parties free of charge.
- Mediation is voluntary meaning either party can terminate participation the Mediation Program at any time. If a party decides not to mediate or if the mediation services do not result in a settlement agreement, the case is returned to the appropriate regional office for investigation.
- Mediation is fast. As soon as a mediator is assigned to the case, the parties have 30 days to schedule the mediation session.
- The mediators are neutral so they have no stake in the outcome.
- Mediation is convenient. The mediators will attempt to schedule the mediation sessions as close to the parties' geographical location as possible.
- Mediation provides an opportunity to clarify the issues that led to the charge being filed in the first place and allows each party to clear up any misunderstandings.
- Mediation allows parties to be as creative as they desire in their settlements. The parties are not confined to what remedies would be available to them under state or federal law.

If you are interested in applying to volunteer, please complete the PHRC Volunteer Mediator Form at: <http://www.phrc.pa.gov/Resources/Pages/Mediation.aspx#.V9leI5jD86Y>

If you have questions or want more information, please contact: Katie Petruczok, Esquire at the PA Human Relations Commission, 717.787.9537, kpetruczok@pa.gov

BAR LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

BY: MARK WENDAUR, IV

This summer, I had the opportunity to attend the YLD Summer Retreat at Toftrees Resort in State College on behalf of the Dauphin County Bar Association. The Pennsylvania Bar offered a number of enjoyable CLE's and events for members. At a personal level, and as someone who recently started a solo practice, the retreat gave me a wonderful chance to meet and network with other attorneys.

Events kicked off Wednesday night. While some members enjoyed the trivia night, my fiancé and I made our way down into State College for a taste of Pittsburgh at Primanti Brothers (a restaurant that I frequently refuse to pass by).

The bulk of the CLE and networking events were held on Thursday. I attended "A Dozen Ways to Anger a Judge" and "Introduction to Estate Administration." The review from everyone I spoke to was that all of the CLE events were light hearted and informative. Laughs were heard from both seminar halls holding the events.

Thursday afternoon gave us the chance to go on a winery tour, brewery tour, or stadium tour. Seeing the chance to do something out of the ordinary, I chose the winery tour. We learned about the winemaking process and met some great people. My colleagues gave rave reviews about both the brewery and stadium tours as well.

The main event for the retreat was dinner and a live band back at the resort. Toftrees laid out a great spread for everyone in attendance, and the band did not disappoint. Everyone enjoyed the atmosphere. Some even found the extra energy after a day full of events to take to the dance floor!

Friday morning wrapped up with two more classes: "Practical Tips" and "Navigating the Courthouse." Both provided a nice endcap to the retreat. It was a pleasure to meet everyone and share in the events with such great people. Thank you to both the Pennsylvania Bar Association for putting on such a great retreat, and to the Dauphin County Bar Association for allowing me to represent you at this great event!
